last year, all the social problems of the neighborhood have not been solved by any means, declared Miss Marjorie Twitchell, head-worker at the East End Day Nursery annual meeting Friday.

A survey showed that of the ninety-eight families using the Nursery only one father was permanently unemployed. 66 per cent of the mothers are either day workers, averaging tow to three days a week, or employed in restaurants for a few hours per day, so that all work to supplement their husband's wages rather than to support the family.

The boys club with a membership of 110, uses the house on an average of three days a week for crafts and games. Fifteen families were provided Christmas dinners and the Alpha Delta Phi Sorority sent eight girls to camp and gave a Christmas party for the younger children.

Elected to the new executive are: Miss Marjorie Rogers, presi-

ALUMNAE AND STUDENTS IN WAR WORK GROUP

Alumnae and students of the Margaret Eaton School meet each Friday at the school to do war work and the association is affiliated with the Red Cross. At present the sewing group is working on underclothing for English children, requested by the Red Cross. The knitting group is making sweaters, socks, helmets and mitts for the Merchant Marine and Home Guard in England as result of a direct appeal from a Canadian nurse overseas who had seen the pitiful condition of these men.

Another activity of the association is recreational leadership for English war guests. The social and financial group is in charge of the bookkeeping and plans activities for raising money to buy wool and other necessary materials. A St. Patrick's Day party is being arranged.

Officers of the association are:
Chairman, Miss Frances White; conveners—Sewing, Mrs. Anne Thompson; knitting, Miss Helen Parsons and Miss Elva Miller; recreational, Mrs. R. Hooper; social and financial, Mrs. E. C.
Macdonald.

St. David's Society Party At Oak Room, Union Station

The St. David's Society has arranged for its annual St. David's Day celebration on Saturday

Miss Leonl Schneider is entertaining at the Arts Club today in honor of Miss Dorothy Wardell and Mr. Lindsay Wardell, who are holding a joint exhibition in oils and water-color. Mrs. Gweneth Barrington, president, will assist in receiving.

Colonel and Mrs. E. S. Barrie of Kitchener are guests at the Westminster Hotel.

Mrs. William Herring of Cincinnati, Ohio, formerly of Toronto, is in town for two weeks, and is at the King Edward Hotel. Her son, Master William Herring, is attending Upper Canada College Preparatory School.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace gave a cocktail party last evening in honor of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Wallace, to Mr. Kenneth Fiegehen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W.
Fiegehen, St. Leonard's Crescent.
The guests went on afterward to the supper dance at the Royal York.

Mrs. F. S. Rose, the Kingsway, entertained the Phi Kappa Sigma auxiliary at tea. The hostess received in a pretty gown of powder blue crepe; and Mrs. Joseph R. Bull presided at the table, which was gay with red roses and red candles. Miss Jean Rose assisted in looking after the guests.

Victoria College Alumnae Association will hold its annual bridge on Tuesday evening at Wymilwood. War stamps will be the prizes, and the proceeds will be for the Alumnae war fund. Among those taking tables are Miss K.
Leekes, Mrs. W. S. Rae, Mrs. D.
A. Scott, Mrs. Howe Martyn, Mrs.
James Ford, Miss M. Westman, Mrs. H. E. Ford, Mrs. Warren
Lloyd, Miss B. Van Allen, Mrs.
R. L. Thompson, Mrs. C. D. Carruthers and Mrs. Karl Bernhardt.

Miss Mabel Goss, Miss Velma Orok and Miss Peggy Wickson are spending the week-end at Limberlost Lodge.

Mrs. Charles P. McTague and her two sons are spending the week-end in Ottawa with Mr. Justice McTague.

Dr. and Mrs. D. J. LeRoy have taken an apartment in the Major Champlain, Sussex Street, Ottawa.
Mrs. LeRoy was formerly Miss Lillice Marie Read.

Mr. and Mrs. William Galloway of Windsor have come to Toronto to live.

Miss Leslie and Miss Joan Pidgeon are in town with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. T.
Carpenter, and will leave next week to join their parents, Pilot Officer and Mrs. A. L. Pidgeon, who have moved from London.

Mrs. A. B. Smith, Mrs. Henry Button, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Ada-skin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cotes, and many others.

After the Casavant Society recital this afternoon in the Eaton Auditorium, when Mr. Quentin MacLean and Dr. Charles Peaker will be guest artists, tea will be served in the foyer. Those presiding at the table will be Mrs.

"CIRCLE -BAR" FOURTH COLUMN

By J. V. McAree

WE ONCE had a friend who was a very rich man. He had many qualities which we admired, and one prerogative which we envied. He didn't have to see anybody he didn't want to see. It was not necessary that he should ever see anybody at a particular time. So if he wished and occasionally he did, he could go home and deny himself to callers, even telephone callers. Not all rich men can do this. Most them, in fact, have to be accessible to directors, to presidents of other companies, to representatives of the public in various capacities. No matter how rich and important a vice-president is, he has to be there when the president wants him.

Multimillionaire's Privilege.

Mr. Henry Ford illustrates another privilege of the very rich, one which is not common to all them. He can say what he likes, no matter how foolish or offensive it may be. He has said things which are deeply wounding to British subjects and extremely annoying to most Americans. But he says it calmly, knowing that nobody can do anything effective by way of retort. If people refused to buy cars he could remain indifferent.
He never made another car, if present factories were torn down and the land they stand on collapsed. Mr. Ford would still be one of the richest men in the United States.

Right of Poor Man, Too.

We do not know that to amass great fortune has been his privilege. It may have been to buy a certain car at a certain price.
In the process he has achieved priceless possession. He can say what he thinks to be true without regard to what anybody else thinks. It is a pity that being in this position what he does say is not worth saying. It is also fortunate, too, that his ability to say what he likes is a right very gen-

G. SOMERS WED TO EVA GENDRON

Penetanguishene Vows
 for Local Bridgroom

NIECE IS BRIDESMAID

In St. Anne's Church, Penetanguishene, Miss Eva Gendron was married to Mr. George Somers of Toronto. Rev. T. J. Lilly, director of Martyr's Shrine, Midland, conducted the ceremony and said the Nuptial Mass.

The bride wore a gown of moonstone crepe, navy blue with veil and floral trimmings, navy accessories and carriage of Rapide roses. Her niece, Miss Alice MacDonald, was bridesmaid, wearing a crepe gown of white of tulle, navy accessories and bouquet of red roses. Mr. Patrick Leonard, Toronto, was groomsmen. Father Castex, pastor, was in the sanctuary, and Mr. Philip Montgrain, organist and cousin of the bride, played the wedding music. Miss Gloria Tietjen, another cousin, sang, accompanied by Mr. Wilfred Martin.

Breakfast was served at the home of the bride's father, where her sister, Miss Frances Gendron, received the guests. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Somers left for their home in Toronto. For traveling, the bride wore an ensemble of blue. Miss Gendron had been on the staff of Martyr's Shrine for some time, and Mr. Somers is connected with Toronto Separate School Board.

Young Men's Ad-Sales Club Ready With Sugar and Spice To Give Party Proper Flavor

Wednesday Event at Hotel Savarin Aimed to Make Friends Happy

RECORD FOR HOSTS

Tomorrow evening the Young Men's Ad-Sales Club will stage an informal dance in the Windsor Room of the Hotel Savarin. Typical of the originality for which the club is known, is the rate of invitation to which is attached an envelope with a grain of white powder and the question asked, "Is it salt or sugar?"

Quoting Webster the invitation states that the main use of salt is to bring out the flavor in food and that a guaranteed method to add flavor to your life is to attend the Y.M.A.S.C. dance as no effort is being spared to make it the club's best.

If, the invitation adds, "it is sugar, you can bet your sweet life that all the members will be on hand with their charming wiles or girl friends to dance to the rhythm of Music, Basso, orchestra," so that, be it salt or sugar, "there will be a hot time in the old town Wednesday night." Tickets are in charge of Mr. Crawford Hall, Mr. R. Vandenberghe, Mr. R. Henderson and transportation being directed by Mr. Ted Whittingham.

Dean Elliott explained the Book of Revelations declaring it was not "other worldism" but the writer asking us to look at this world from the point of view of the other world. "It's looking down on the earth from the upper point of view." Revelation showed the tyrants and aggressors running for clefts and holes "to hide from He who is sitting on the throne."

Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, D.D., LL.D., president of the university introduced Dean Elliott, tracing his background in England before he took charge of the diocese of British Columbia in 1938. Rev. J. H. Barnes, president of the Wycliffe College Alumni Association, welcomed Dean Elliott and the alumni of the two colleges. Captain the Rev. E. F. vacancies or changes which might occur in the future.

Cost of filling the twenty vacancies will total $7,768 for the last three months of 1941, and additional funds must be granted for this purpose since the Department's current appropriations are not sufficient to take care of such an expenditure. Chief Sinclair will report that some of the equipment should be replaced without delay. Fire alarm equipment and hose trucks in the original 1941 estimates were deleted by the board but these, in the fire chief's opinion, were "necessary requirements" which had to be authorized if the public were to be given adequate protection.

claiming it was hoped that war would be avoided and peace saved. Then in March, 1939, when Moravia and Bohemia were flagrantly violated, there was a change. The danger could no longer be averted. The people decided there could be no peace until this evil thing was destroyed. What then were the reasons for the remarkable spirit which manifested itself?

The people realized the word of Hitler was "a broken reed" and could not be relied on. Lies, deceit and trickery marked his dealings with British statesmen. Sir Norman said: "The British always believed 'a man's word was his bond.' Then they saw innocent people struck down. 'All over Europe peaceful people were struck down suddenly, their freedom taken, their rights abolished.' Thirdly, individual rights were of no account. Great communities, the Jewish communities, were treated with a barbarity which shocked mankind." "Life itself under such terms was not worth living," he declared.

Held up by a soldier while endeavoring to deliver a fake order at 519 Jarvis Street last night, John Weatherup, 12-year-old messenger boy for Tamblin's drug store at 402 Bloor Street East, was robbed of $2. The boy went up the side drive of the Jarvis Street house and was met by the soldier, who took the money from his pouch and then ordered him to return to the store.

War-Plant Blast Unavoidable, No Sabotage Found - Conant

The explosion in the Weiland Chemical Works near Niagara Falls on Sept. 3, which caused the death of three men, was the unavoidable result of operations in the manufacture of high explosives, Attorney-General Conant announced yesterday. He added that no blame or responsibility attaches to any person or persons for the blast. He stated that, after communication with officials of the Dominion Government who advised him that the utmost secrecy must be maintained in connection with the operations of the plant, he had decided it was not in the public interest to hold an inquest.

In addition to the investigation of the Provincial Police, Dr. Smirle Lawson, supervising coroner for Ontario, made a full and careful investigation and it was the result of the reports of the police and Dr.

Lawson that he arrived at the conclusion that the explosion was unavoidable.

"Dr. Lawson was extended every assistance and co-operation by the officials of the plant and of the Dominion Government," Mr. Conant said, "and he has assured me that all the facts and circumstances were fully disclosed to him. Operations, such as are conducted in the plant, must always be attended with considerable hazard and I am confident that both in arrangement and construction of the plant and in the conduct of the operations the utmost practical care was taken. I am also entirely satisfied that there is no indication of sabotage."

"While the explosion was most unfortunate and regrettable, I am of the opinion that it is one of the unavoidable results of our war effort."

FELLOWSHIP ARE OFFERE

With the merging of the Eaton School with the physical and health education University of Toronto opening of the autumn at Eaton Company is offering fellowships for women of the course. President stated yesterday. And as in physical and health education has been approved for the training of physical directors for the Y.M.C.A. in Canada, a number of fellowships granted by the "Y" will be available to men students who aim to become physical directors. GALLANT 'VICTIM' RESCUES 3 NAZIS

London, June 20 — (CP) — Three German airmen owe their lives to the gallantry of the second officer of a British merchant ship they tried to bomb. When their aircraft was shot into the sea the Germans climbed aboard a raft. In a heavy swell the captain of the ship manoeuvred alongside and ropes were thrown down, but the men were too badly wounded to help themselves. So the second officer, at the risk of being crashed against the ship, climbed down a ladder and roped the Nazis together. Then they were hoisted aboard.

EATON SCHOOL TO BE PART OF UNIVERSITY

Merging With Department of Physical and Health Education

The Margaret Eaton school, for years Toronto's outstanding centre of physical and health education for women, is to be merged with the University of Toronto, according to an announcement by President H. J. Cody. The school will become part of the university's department of physical and health education, established in 1940.

The Margaret Eaton school was named after the late Mrs. Timothy Eaton, and was established in 1906, being known as the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression, the name being changed in 1926.

Courses of study have kept pace with changing customs and social conditions. Many leading physical directors and instructresses have been turned out.

Several members of the school staff, including Mrs. Florence Somers, director since 1934, have been appointed to university positions. The present facilities at Yonge St. and McGill St. will be a welcome addition to the physical and health education department, according to university officials.

They include a fine gymnasium, swimming pool, dancing studio and lecture and social rooms. Students now at the school, it was announced, will complete their courses in conjunction with the university, and will receive their Margaret Eaton school diploma.

M. EATON STUDENTS RETURNED SOLDIERS DEMONSTRATE WORK FETED AT PARTIES

'Fitness on Home Front' Is Timely Number

The women students of Margaret Eaton School and of the School of Physical and Health Education of the University of Toronto gave a demonstration in the gymnasium of the former school on Saturday evening, attended by a large audience.
Apparatus work on boom, ropes, horse, box, bar and flying ring, performed by the second, third and fourth year girls of the university and Margaret Eaton students, opened the program, followed by an interesting gymnastics table given by the first year girls.

Specially appropriate to the times was a number entitled "Fitness on the Home Front," showing agility in the nursery, blackout playtime, mobilization of energy and conservation through relaxation. Marching tactics done by the school seniors with the precision and finish of an army precision squad showed thorough training and discipline of movement. In contrast, the games of rink and hatpin baseball revealed abandon and enthusiasm of whole-hearted sport.

Several dancing numbers gave color and rhythm to the program; tap, folk and recreational dancing and two numbers in the modern dance, "Dance Technique," and "We Give You a Toast," the last an original composition by the Margaret Eaton School Dance Club, directed by Mrs. E. P. S. Allen. The demonstration was under the direction of Miss Florence A. Somers, Miss Jean Forster, Miss D. N. R. Jackson and Miss Shirley Naylor.

Knox College Chapel Wedding Unites Ruth E. Ferguson and Gordon Rowan Pye on Saturday

Dr. J. B. Paulin officiated on Saturday in Knox College Chapel, when Ruth Elizabeth, daughter of Mrs. Ferguson and the late Hugh Ferguson, was married to Mr. Gordon Rowan Pye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pye. Mr. E. J. Fisher was at the organ, and shaded yellow and apricot snapdragons formed the background for the bridal party.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. L. Ross Ferguson, wore a gown of gardenia white crepe, classic in style, the only trimming a touch of silk braiding appliqued on the basque bodice at the lowered waistline, from where full side panels fell gracefully. Her long veil of tulle illusion was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white swansonia and miniature calla lilies. She was attended by Miss Beulah Irwin and Mrs. E. Blair Stevenson, in frocks of turquoise chiffon. Their halos were of shirred chiffon, and they carried Token roses and yellow marguerites. Mr. Jack Pye, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen, and the ushers were: Mr. H. Blair Stevenson, and Mr. E. Grant Ferguson.

The reception was held at the Alexandra Palace. Mrs. Ferguson received her guests wearing a graceful crown of shadow blue roses. Mrs. Pye chose a gown of British blue, with white applique on the jacket, navy hat, and corsage of scarlet carnation petals, and bouvardia.

For travelling the bride wore a sheer wool ensemble of patio green, brown hat and accessories, stone margens and corsage of Fantasy tulips. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Pye will live in Toronto.
